

Urmila

24 April 2025

Assessment

Influence Quotient: 43/100

Qualitative Analysis - Positive

- You have a clear idea of what you want to achieve with your workshops and have identified specific topics such as social advocacy, persuasion, and assertiveness.
- You are open to feedback and ideas from others, which is a great trait for collaboration and growth.
- You have taken the initiative to share your idea and are enthusiastic about starting workshops, which shows your passion and motivation.
- You are thinking about how to build a calendar and start different kinds of workshops, which indicates that you are considering the practical aspects of your idea.

Qualitative Analysis - Areas of Improvement

- You could improve by providing more details about your workshops, such as the target audience, expected outcomes, and how you plan to measure success.
- You may want to consider doing more research on your topics before presenting them, to ensure you have a thorough understanding of the subject matter.
- You could benefit from creating a more structured presentation, with a clear introduction, body, and conclusion, to make your ideas easier to follow.
- You should avoid saying phrases like 'this idea came to me two days back', as it may give the impression that you haven't thoroughly thought through your idea.
- You could improve your presentation by providing specific examples or case studies to illustrate your points and make your ideas more concrete.

Detailed Evaluation Metrics

No.	Individual Parameters	5 Point scale:	Feedback: Excellent(5), Good(4) Satisfactory(3), Needs Improvement(2), Poor(1)
1.	Level of Confidence through the presentation • Posture • Smile • Eye Contact • Energy levels through the presentation	3	Posture: 4 Smile: 3 Eye Contact: 4 Energy levels through the presentation: N/A
2.	Did the speaker vary their tone, speed, and volume while delivering the speech/presentation?	4	You maintained a good tone. Your volume was consistent. A few words were pronounced very fast.
3.	Did the speech have a structure of Opening, Body and Conclusion?	1	The speech started with an introduction. The body of the speech lacked clear transitions. The conclusion was not clearly defined.
4.	Was the overall "Objective" of the speech delivered clearly?	3	The objective of the speech was somewhat clear. You stated the main idea at the beginning. The purpose of the speech was to gather ideas.
5.	Was the content of the presentation/speech to the point, or did it include unnecessary details that may have distracted or confused the audience?	2	The content was mostly to the point. Some ideas seemed unrelated to the main topic. You could have provided more focus.
6.	Was the content of the presentation/speech relevant to the objective of the presentation?	4	The content was relevant to the objective. You discussed workshops and ideas. The topics were related to the main idea. The speech stayed on topic.
7.	Was the content of the presentation/speech clear and easy to understand?	1	The content was somewhat clear. Some sentences were hard to follow. You could have provided more explanation.
8.	Did the speaker keep the presentation engaging by adding relevant examples, anecdotes and data to back their content?	1	You did not provide many examples. The speech lacked anecdotes. Data was not provided to back up the content.
9.	Did the speaker demonstrate credibility? Will you trust the speaker?	3	You seemed somewhat credible. Your idea was interesting. You did not provide much background information.

10.	Did the speaker explain how the speech or topic of the presentation would benefit the audience and what they could gain from it?	2	You did not clearly explain the benefits. The audience's gain was not stated. You could have provided more information.
11.	Did the speaker make an emotional connection with the audience?	1	You did not make an emotional connection. The speech was mostly factual. The audience was not appealed to on an emotional level.
12.	Overall, were you convinced/ persuaded with the speaker's view on the topic?	1	You were not totally convincing. The speech lacked persuasion. The audience may not be motivated to act.